VI. Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions based on it: (5x1=5)

The Feast of the New Yam was approaching and Umofia was in a festival mood. It was an occasion for giving thanks to Ani, the earth goddess and the source of all fertility. Ani played a greater part in the life of the people than any other deity. She was the ultimate judge of morality and conduct. And what was more, she was in close communion with the departed fathers of the clan whose bodies had been committed to earth.

The Feast of the New Yam was held every year before the harvest began, to honour the earth goddess and the ancestral spirits of the clan. New Yams could not be eaten until some had first been offered to these powers. Men and women, young and old, looked forward to the New Yam Festival because it began the season of plenty – the New Year. On the last night, before the festival, Yams of the old year were all disposed of by those who still had them. The new year must begin with tasty, fresh Yams and not the shrivelled and fibrous crop of the previous year. All cooking-pots, calabashes and wooden bowls were thoroughly washed, especially the wooden mortar in which Yam was pounded. Yam foo-foo and vegetable soup was the chief food in the celebration. So much of it was cooked that, no matter how heavily the family ate or how many invitees there were, there was always a huge quantity of left-overs.

The New Yam Festival was thus an occasion for joy throughout Umofia. And every man whose arm was strong was expected to invite a large number of guests. Okonkwo also asked his wives’ relations; and since he had three wives, his guests would make a fairly big crowd.

Somehow Okonkwo could never become enthusiastic over feasts as most people.

1) Why was the feast of the New Yam important?

2) What part did Ani play in the lives of the people of Umofia?
3) Give any two examples that bring out the festive mood of Umofia.

4) Why is the feast of New Yam called the season of plenty?

5) How did Okonkwo react to the feast of New Yam?

VII. a) Using the hints given below write a narrative paragraph of about 80-100 words:

OR

b) Using the hints given below write a descriptive paragraph of about 80-100 words:

NSS event – Campaign to create awareness of AIDS in a nearby village – programmes presented through cultural activities – banners – skits – street plays – function presided by the Tahsildar of the village – a worthwhile venture.

VIII. Make a note on the following passage by choosing either a linear diagram or any other diagrammatic format of your choice:

The mango, cultivated in India since time immemorial, is regarded as the national fruit of the country. Described as the “Food of the Gods” in the sacred Vedas, it is grown in almost all parts of the country, except the hilly areas. More than hundred varieties of mangoes are grown in India, in a range of colours, sizes and shapes. Mangoes find a mention in the Indian history as well. The famous poet Kalidasa is known to have sung its praise. The ancient Greek King, Alexander the Great and Chinese pilgrim Hieun Tsang have been said to have savoured its taste. Historical records also mention that the Mughal Emperor, Akbar planted 100,000 mango trees in Darbhanga (in Bihar), known as Lakhibagh. Mangos are rich in Vitamins A, C and D.

Mangos are available in different sizes, ranging from 10 to 25 cm in length and 7 to 12 cm in width. In terms of weight, a single mango can be as heavy as 2.5 kg.
The fruit comes in a wide variety of colours, such as green, yellow, red and even various combinations of all these colours. The fruit has a flat, oblong seed in the centre, which is covered by the sweet pulp. Covering the pulp is a thin layer of skin, which is peeled off before eating the fruit. When ripe, the unpeeled fruit gives off a distinct, sweet smell.
