Total No of Participants	8 participants
Event Description	The HealthXcel club successfully organized Triage Dynamics, a hypothetical role-playing event that tested participants' persuasion and critical thinking skills in a resource-constrained medical scenario. With four teams comprising a total of eight participants, each drew chits to determine their assigned medical condition and the personality they would enact. Participants had three minutes to present their case to the "Doctor" (Judge), arguing why their condition warranted urgent treatment. Following the individual presentations, a debate round allowed participants to counter their opponents' arguments to earn additional points. The event fostered creativity, medical awareness, and strategic thinking, ultimately recognizing the top two teams that best justified their need for prioritization.
