The Vote of thanks was delivered by Dr. Geetha Varma, Associate Professor, Department of Civil Engineering.

The excerpt of presentation of Mr. Shaon Basu is as follows:

Summarized the challenges and benefits of study abroad opportunities. The increasing numbers of students studying abroad has created problematic situations for higher education institutions and for students. For institutions, providing adequate institutional and personal support for students studying abroad has been difficult. Students who study abroad face challenges related to language barriers, social integration issues, and financial challenges. Despite these challenges, the increasing number of study abroad students has created opportunities and benefits for institutions and students. These benefits include financial gains on the part of the institution, the opportunity for cross cultural understanding and global
